

Called to Care

Called to Care

"For me [stewardship] indicates a call to care. That I've been put in charge of something — to care for something — and that it requires investing in that with all of who I am."

— Rev. Irene Pak Lee

Stone Church is where we gather for worship, learning and socializing before returning to the larger community inspired and equipped to contribute to a better world.

The Stewardship Committee thanks you for your past investments of time, talent and treasure to this work and urges you to increase your participation in 2023.
